

Was your home damaged by the recent Otago Flooding?

The Temporary Accommodation Service (TAS) can help you and your whānau to find temporary accommodation while your damaged home is being repaired or rebuilt.

You can register by:

- › Visiting www.tas.mbie.govt.nz and complete the easy-to-use online application form, or
- › Calling 0508 754 163 toll free and one of our service centre team can assist you.

If you are currently staying with friends or whānau and think you may need to use the service in the coming weeks or months, we recommend you register with the service now. You only need to register once per household.

If you are concerned about the cost of temporary accommodation, TAS can provide guidance on how to access support services such as financial assistance and insurance advice.

Tenants and landlords of rental properties can find information on their rights and obligations after a natural disaster at:
